THE COACH'S CORNER

COACH JEPSON REVIEWS THE 2015 SEASON

Something has always amazed me when it comes to the world of coaching. I have found that no matter how talented a team is, they will reach beyond their potential if they are challenged to do so and if they have the right preparation. The 2015 edition of Penn State Men's Gymnastics was the perfect example of this principle. Entering the season ranked fourth in the Big Ten and sixth nationally, the squad rolled through the season with a chip on its shoulder to become Big Ten Champions and finish third in the country. Among the season's individual highlights were Big Ten titles by Matt Felleman in the All Around and Trevor Howard on rings and an NCAA Championship performance by freshman Thad Lawson on floor exercise. The team also collected a host of All American Awards with Matt Felleman, Trevor Howard, Leroy Clarke Jr., Tristan Duverglas, Thad Lawson, and Alexis Torres receiving accolades. (See Pg 8.) This pushes the total number of All American citations by Nittany Lion gymnasts to a nation leading 311.

On a personal note, one of my most rewarding experiences of the year was seeing so many alumni return for the dedication of the Gene Wettstone Gymnastics Complex. In addition to sharing in the Big Ten Championship victory, our alumni paid tribute to Gene Wettstone via a ceremony where we named our training facility in Gene's honor. Funded by generous alumni donations, the Wettstone initiative included a new facade and graphics outlining the accomplishments of Wettstone as well as the program along with a new team locker room. Phase two of the project, which will include a new trophy case and areas featuring Olympians, NCAA Champions, and Nissen-Emery Award winners, will be completed this fall. I am extremely grateful for all of the support from our alumni, boosters, parents, athletes, and administration. Through everyone's collective efforts we have been able to piece together a world class educational and athletic experience that, I believe, is unmatched in collegiate men's gymnastics.

Coach Randy Jepson

And finally, I want to take a moment to say a big thank you to longtime assistant coach Slava Boiko. Slava provided great technical insight, experience, and friendship to generations of Penn State gymnasts throughout his tenure on the Penn State staff. Assuming his duties is 2013 grad and All American Tony Beck. I wish them both great success in their new stages in life! I also hope to connect with all of our supporters throughout the year as we once again challenge another team to be more than they can be.

For the Glory,

RJ
