KAY PEARSON KEATING AWARD WINNERS

The first woman athlete in the history of The Rice Institute to gain considerable state and national acclaim for her exploits, Keating was named a Honorary Member of the "R" Association in the fall of 1982 and became the first woman inducted into the Rice Athletics Hall of Fame in 1985

As an undergraduate at Rice as Kay Pearson, she earned All-American status by winning the 1934 National College Girls Invitational Tennis Championship in singles and doubles. She was Rice women's champion 1932 to 1936 and won the Houston City Tennis champion nine times between 1931 and 1940 in addition to a host of AAU titles for singles, doubles, and mixed doubles.

Shortly before graduating from Rice in 1936 Pearson took up golf in her final semester at Rice and by 1938 was Houston City Women's champion. She won the city title six times, with a five-year gap in the middle of her run created as no tournament was held during World War II. She was the Texas Women's State champion in 1941 and again in 1947. In 1939, she tied for medalist honors at the Women's Southern Championship.

A lifetime supporter of the Owl Club, she endowed the award that bears her name, honoring the most outstanding women's tennis player at Rice.

ACADEMIC HONORS

JOYCE POUNDS HARDY AWARD

Presented annually to the most outstanding female Rice athlete, the award honors long-time Rice supporter Joyce Pounds Hardy and recognizes the Owls' top overall student-athlete for her efforts in sports, in the classroom and in the community. Three Rice women's tennis players have been presented with this honor.
