

Take control of your publishing

pkpservices.sfu.ca

PKP Publishing Services

PKP Publishing Services

Supporting Open Publishing

Innovation in Scholarly Publishing Since 2001

PKP Publishing Services (PKPIPS) offers support for your software hosting or customization needs. We are the developers of Open Journal Systems, Open Conference Systems, Open Harvester Systems, and Open Monograph Press, and are the experts in helping you make the most of your online publishing projects.

Supporting PKP

As our customer, you will not only receive direct, personalized, unmatched support from the PKP Development Team, but will also be contributing to the ongoing development of PKP applications. All funds raised by PKP Publishing Services go directly toward enhancing all of our free, open source software.

Endorsements

"When we choose business partners, we look to those who truly listen to and respond to our needs, are service-minded, and are actively interested in helping us to continually improve our business to better serve our users. PKP Publishing Services demonstrates all of these qualities, and is one of our most valued and trusted partners."
Co-Action Publishing

"We have been recommending OJS to our clients for almost a decade as an economical means for societies of all sizes to publish a quality, peer-reviewed journal. The PKP team is continuously developing new technologies to meet the needs of our unique publication models."
Multimed, Inc.

Service Plans

Journal Hosting

Enjoy freedom from technical headaches; increased exposure for your journal; add cutting-edge features to better serve you and your readers. Whether starting a new journal or moving an existing installation, we can help.

Press Hosting

Looking to manage and publish monographs, edited volumes, and/or scholarly editions online? Want access to all the tools you've come to expect from other PKP applications? Open Monograph Press is for you.

External Support

PKP offers a full suite of external support options for users of OJS, OCS, and OMP who wish to use their own servers.

Conference Hosting

Use OCS to help manage one conference -- or as many unique conferences as your institution manages. OCS provides the tools for every step of conference organizing. We can provide a permanent home for recurring conferences, or give you a short-term space for a one-time event.

PKP Consulting

PKP experts provide a range of other services. We can help you export your existing content, implement a new graphic design, run a training session for your editors, provide a complete security audit of your current server environment, or help you upgrade to the latest version of PKP software.

Sponsored Development

Is our software missing some crucial new feature or workflow component? Tell us about it! We are always interested in talking about new features and additions to our software. No hosting necessary.