

Certified Facility Manager[®] (CFM) Preparation

ONLINE FORMAT

The Rice University Certified Facility Manager[®] (CFM) preparation course, using the IFMA FM Learning System[®], provides an overview of the facility management body of knowledge, the basis of the CFM Exam. Our course – offered entirely online – is the first and only university course that helps you prepare for the CFM Exam. The CFM Exam, the only global facility management certification available, is a competency-based certification exam that tests the ability to apply knowledge and skills gained through a combination of facility management experience and education.
