How to use Google Translate on ILO/Cinterfor's web site

If the translation toolbar appears automatically, you can click on "Translate" to start the translation. Any new page you visit within ILO/Cinterfor's web site will be translated automatically from now on and until you close the window.

If the translation toolbar does not appear automatically, you will find this button at the lower right corner of the window. When you click on "Translate", the toolbar will appear at the top of the window.

You can choose one of the many languages available using this selector.

You can always return to the original text version with this button.

To return to the original text version and close the translator toolbar, use this button.
