

In this presentation, Sherra Sewell will explain how your organization is like an orange that can be more fruitful through effective branding and marketing. This fun, interactive workshop will help you identify opportunities to grow your organization and develop strategies and tactics that address those opportunities. You'll also be invited to share some of your own ideas and success stories, so get ready for some creativity!