New 7th Edition

HUMAN PATHOLOGY

thoroughly revised!

by Howard T. Karsner, M.D., LL.D.

Medical Research Advisor to the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery, United States Navy; formerly Prof. of Pathology, Western Reserve University.

The most extensively revised edition of the book's long career—covering the many advances in pathology within recent years. Two new chapters on diseases of the eye and diseases of the skin—the chapter on infectious diseases and section on diseases of the liver largely rewritten—changes in all but three of the remaining chapters. 800 new references to the literature—a new improved index—241 new illustrations, some of which are photographs and photomicrographs that replace older drawings. This classic source book—already widely accepted—reflects in these extensive revisions in the seventh edition the thorough coverage of current developments in human pathology.
