

Ronda L. Harrison is a licensed attorney in the state of Texas and the Assistant Dean for Academic Success and Bar Readiness at Thurgood Marshall School of Law on the campus of Texas Southern University. She teaches bar prep elective courses for third year law students. She is also a certified mediator and has mediated cases for the Texas Attorney General's office and the Harris County JP court. She was formerly the Associate Director of Academic Assistance and Student Counseling at South Texas College of Law in Houston, Texas where she primarily worked with at-risk law students, law students with disabilities, and minority students. Ms. Harrison also conducted programs relating to substance abuse, depression, and stress management. She worked on pipeline programs with high school and college students to increase the number of minority students in higher education institutions. She is the mother of three daughters and her hobbies include cycling and roller skating.