

ISABEL BURK

Secrets of the Street:

What kids know that you need to know:

Presented by:

Do you want to find out what kids are doing? This is a lively peek inside youth culture. Learn about the latest trends and learn what you can do to help keep your child safe. Interesting and important for parents of all young people!

Objectives: At the end of this session, the participant will be able to:

- Describe several substances favored by youth, effects and risks
- Identify ages of first use of substances that can relate to future problems
- Relate youth health and safety with use of substances
- Outline strategies that will reduce your child's risk of using substances

Isabel Burk, Director of The Health Network, is a nationally known, award-winning expert on drug prevention, safety policies, and health education issues. Isabel has written two books and more than 100 articles and has appeared on 20/20, CBS This Morning, The View, Phil Donahue, Fox News, and others. Isabel is a credentialed prevention professional and a certified health education specialist and has a Masters of Science in Health. She previously worked as a Safe & Drug-Free Schools Coordinator in New York.

Friday, September 14—6:30 PM

Hosted by:

1551 East New Road, Greenfield